Retiree Cost-of-Living Adjustment Set at 2% for January 2014

At the August 26, 2013 Public School and Education Employee Retirement Systems of Missouri (PSRS/PEERS) Board of Trustees' meeting, the Board voted to provide a 2% cost-of-living adjustment (COLA) for all eligible benefit recipients, effective January 2014. The Consumer Price Index for Urban Consumers (CPI-U) for July 1, 2012 to June 30, 2013 was 1.8%.

A Funding Stabilization Policy was adopted by the Board in 2011. Under this policy, in years when the change in the CPI-U for the preceding fiscal year (July 1 to June 30) is between 0% and 5%, a 2% COLA is given.

"We are pleased that the Funding Stabilization Policy is working the way we intended," said PSRS/PEERS Executive Director Steve Yoakum. "It allows us to provide retirees a COLA during times of inflation."

According to the policy, if the change in the CPI-U is 0% or less no increase can be given. If it is 5% or more, the Board is required to give a 5% increase providing extra protection in times of high inflation.

Change in CPI-U	COLA
0% or less	0%
Between 0% and 5%	2%
5% or more	5%

Who is Eligible for COLAs?

Eligible service and disability retirees may receive cost-of-living adjustments (COLAs) on monthly benefits beginning the second January following their retirement date. For example, if you retired July 1, 2013, you will become eligible for COLAs in January 2015. Qualified beneficiaries may also receive COLAs.

PSRS members who retired in 1987 and earlier have reached the 80% COLA cap, and are no longer eligible for a COLA. Individuals who retired in the years 1988 through 2012 will receive a 2% COLA increase effective with their January 31, 2014 benefit.

January 2014 COLA Eligibility
Retired in 1987 and earlier	You have reached your 80% COLA cap
Retired in 1988-2012	2% COLA
Retired in 2013	Not yet eligible for a COLA

PSRS Fiscal Year 2012-2013 Investment Return Exceeds Goal, Adds Over $3 Billion in Assets

PSRS Returns: 12.6%

PSRS' strong investment program, coupled with strong overall returns in the global stock market, resulted in the achievement of a 12.6% investment return for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2013. This return is well above the 8% investment return goal set by the System. The PSRS' market value of invested assets increased through investment earnings by over $3 billion from the previous year.

The total plan return of 12.6% exceeded both the long-term investment goal (actuarially assumed return) of earning 8%, and the total plan policy benchmark* return of 11.2%. Over long periods of time, PSRS also continues to produce investment returns that meet or exceed the System objectives. The annualized investment return for PSRS over the last 30 years is 9.3%.

"Our goal is to provide solid retirement benefits to our members," says Steve Yoakum, PSRS/PEERS executive director. "Our internal investment staff continues to skillfully navigate volatile markets and produce competitive returns at a lower level of risk than most large public pension plans throughout the country. This year, we added significant value above our benchmarks, which helps maintain consistent contribution rates for all of our members and school districts."

PSRS maintains a diversified asset allocation of stocks, bonds, real estate, hedged assets and private equity.

2013 Missouri Legislative Session: No Legislation Directly Affecting PSRS Retirees

The 2013 Missouri Legislative Session officially ended May 17 with no legislation passed impacting benefits received by Public School Retirement System of Missouri (PSRS) retirees and beneficiaries.

For active members, legislation was passed making the 25-and-Out early retirement provision a permanent retirement option and extending the availability of the 2.55% benefit factor for members retiring with 31 or more years of service through July 1, 2014. Both of these provisions took effect August 28, 2013.

A Snapshot of PSRS Retirees

PSRS retirees and the benefits they receive are important to the economic health of our state. Retirees often spend benefits at or near home, fueling local economies and helping stimulate growth at the community level. In many Missouri counties, PSRS could be considered one of the state's largest employers, based on the benefits (wages) paid and their positive financial impact.

Each year, the majority of retirements occur in July. Here is a quick look at our 2012-2013 school year retirees.

Congratulations to all!

Don't Jeopardize Your Benefits! Know the Rules When Working After Retirement

As a PSRS retiree, you can work for a covered employer. However, in order to continue to receive retirement benefits, there are requirements you must meet.

Requirements for working after retirement for PSRS-covered employers:

1. Properly terminate employment at retirement.
2. Follow limits on hours worked and salary earned.
3. Keep a record of your hours worked and salary earned.

Proper Termination of Employment at Retirement

In addition to meeting the eligibility criteria for retirement, you must also properly terminate your employment with PSRS-covered employers before you can receive benefits. In some cases, working too soon after retirement or entering an employment contract or retirement incentive can prevent you from properly terminating your employment. If you are a recent retiree, be sure you meet the termination requirements detailed in the packet you received at retirement. If you do not properly terminate employment, you are not eligible to receive benefits. Any benefits you receive while ineligible must be repaid, including a Partial Lump Sum Option (PLSO) payment.

Limits on Hours Worked and Salary Earned

Once a month has passed since your PSRS retirement date, you may work for covered employers on a part-time or temporary-substitute basis, within the following limits:

- 550 hours per school year*: All employment with PSRS-covered employers counts toward this limit. Hours that you volunteer while also serving in a paid position may count, unless the duties are substantially different.
- 50% of salary for the position: The 50% salary limit is determined by your employer and is based on the annual full-time salary for the position. If you fill more than one position, the 50% salary limit is based on the annual salary of the highest paid position in which you work at least 20% of your total hours for the year.

If you retire in a month other than July, your limits are pro-rated and will be lower for the year you retire. We will inform you of your personal limits when you return to work. You can also find a chart detailing pro-rated limits at www.psr-peers.org or in your Member Handbook. Your limits will increase to the full 550 hours and 50% of salary for all subsequent school years of post-retirement work.

All hours you work and salary you receive, including employer-paid health insurance benefits, counts toward this limit. Funds and insurance benefits you receive as part of a retirement incentive count toward this limit if you are required by the agreement to work or volunteer after retirement.

Record-Keeping Requirements

All retirees working for covered employers are required to maintain a Working After Retirement Record form tracking hours worked and salary earned each month at each covered employer. Keep them on file, but don't send them to us unless we request them.

We will send you a copy of this form when you return to post-retirement work with a covered employer, or you can find one at www.psr-peers.org.

Your employer is also required to track your hours and salary. We can request access to these records at any time. If there are discrepancies, your employer's records are considered official. Therefore, it is in your best interest to discuss with your employer how to track your work and check periodically to ensure your records agree.

Don't Jeopardize Your Retirement Benefits

The penalty for exceeding the limits on working after retirement for covered employers can be costly. Exceeding either limit by any amount will cause you to lose, at minimum, one full monthly benefit.

Your work for non-PSRS-covered employers is not restricted.

If you have questions about the working after retirement rules please visit our website and view the brochure, Working After Retirement, or contact us at (800) 392-6848 or email psrpeers@psrpeers.org.

Important Information for Joint-and-Survivor Benefit Plan Recipients

If you selected a Joint-and-Survivor benefit plan at retirement, your monthly benefits are reduced so that your sole beneficiary can receive lifetime monthly benefits after your death. Joint-and-Survivor plans can be a good choice for members whose beneficiary, often a spouse, will have limited retirement income from other sources.

However, as a Joint-and-Survivor plan recipient, don't forget these important facts about your benefit plan:

1. If your beneficiary dies before you, your benefit amount increases (pops up) to the larger, Single Life benefit amount, adjusted with any increases since your retirement. You should contact PSRS at the time of your beneficiary's death so that we can increase your benefit.
2. You can change your Joint-and-Survivor beneficiary for monthly benefits if:
 - a. You have named your spouse as your Joint-and-Survivor beneficiary for monthly benefits, and
 - b. You divorce and your divorce decree gives you sole rights to your benefit, or your spouse dies, and
 - c. You remarry and name your new spouse as your Joint-and-Survivor beneficiary within 90 days of the marriage.

Do Your Family Members Know You Have a PSRS Pension?

Although no one wants to think about making final arrangements, eventually we all must face the task.

Don't forget to include PSRS on the list of organizations your family should contact in the days following your death.

In the event of your death, your family should notify us as soon as possible so we can update your account and provide information on benefits payable to your beneficiary(ies).

If you divorce and remarry and don't name your new spouse within those 90 days, your ex-spouse will receive benefits at your death.
